

Voltalia integrates the EnterNext Tech 40 index

Voltalia (Euronext Paris, ISIN code: FR0011995588), an international renewable energy company, announces today that it was granted the EnterNext Label "Tech 40" and therefore enters the Tech 40 index as of April 21, 2017.

The "Tech 40" label recognises 40 innovative Tech companies listed on Euronext (Amsterdam, Brussels, Lisbon and Paris) among the 330 companies operating in life sciences, eco-industries and technologies, media and telecommunications.

The selection is carried out by a committee of independent European experts based on their economic, financial and stock market performance. In the renewable energy sector, only two companies, including Voltalia, were selected.

The awarding of the label allows Voltalia to enter the EnterNext Tech 40 index, effective April 21, 2017.

"We are very proud to be selected to integrate this index which establishes Voltalia among the 40 best-performing Tech companies listed on the Euronext markets. This distinction enhances our visibility vis-à-vis investors in France and abroad", says Sébastien Clerc, CEO of Voltalia.
